

Expenditure Policy EP

Martin Walker, Vice Director

Martin Walker, from Flüelen (UR), graduated from the University of Fribourg in 2003 with a Master of Arts in Economics (specialising in political economics and finance). He joined the Expenditure Policy Division in 2005 and his work initially focused on issues relating to the Confederation's ownership policy (Swiss Post, Swisscom). In 2010, he took over as Head of Staff at the Expenditure Policy Division, carrying out tasks in the areas of budgeting (including task reviews and savings programmes) and administrative management (including the introduction of a new management model). Martin Walker has headed the Expenditure Policy Division as Vice Director since the end of 2019. He is married, has two children and lives in Zurich.
